UPDATE: Wanted Subject Located in Minnesota

February 18, 2017 – A man wanted for cutting off his GPS monitor in Oregon was located and taken into custody in the state of Minnesota.

On February 17, 2017, police officers in Sauk Centre, Minnesota, located Aaron Emery working at a local Subway restaurant. Police learned Mr. Emery was wanted on Oregon warrants for Unauthorized Departure and Parole Violation (Abscond) after he bragged to a co-worker about escaping from GPS supervision in Oregon.

Mr. Emery is currently lodged in the Stearns County Jail in Minnesota while he awaits the extradition process back to Oregon.

PRESS RELEASE: Attempt to Locate Wanted Subject Aaron Emery

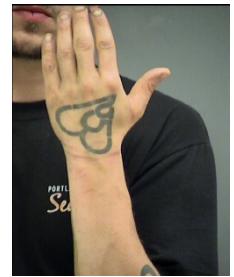

November 21, 2016 – The Washington County Sheriff's Office is seeking the public's help in locating 30-year-old Aaron James Emery. Mr. Emery is wanted after recently cutting off his GPS monitor and fleeing from the Washington County Community Corrections Center.

On October 18, 2016, detectives with the Washington County Sheriff's Office arrested 30-year-old Aaron James Emery after a DNA match linked him to the sexual assault of a teenager in Aloha in March 2015. Mr. Emery was charged with Public Indecency and Sexual Abuse in the Third Degree.

Mr. Emery bailed out of jail the following day and was moved to the Washington County Community Corrections Center to finish serving time on an unrelated felony Assault in the Fourth Degree charge.

Inmates in the community corrections center can leave during the day to work or attend treatment. Mr. Emery was employed in the restaurant industry and was monitored by a GPS ankle bracelet. Recently, Mr. Emery cut off his GPS monitor and failed to return to the community corrections center. A no-bail warrant for Parole Violation (Abscond) has been issued for his arrest. Mr. Emery has a distinctive tattoo on his left hand that may assist in his identification.

If you see Mr. Emery or have knowledge of his current whereabouts, please do not approach him. Instead, contact non-emergency dispatch or 911.
