Original release below:

February 3, 2017 - Impaired driving continues to be a significant problem in the State of Oregon. Washington County Sheriff's Deputies will be on the roads providing extra patrol to enhance safety for this Super Bowl weekend.

During the NFL playoffs, College Basketball weekends and through the month of January, Washington County Sheriff's Deputies arrested 65 impaired drivers, 6 of whom were under the influence of drugs other than or in combination with alcohol. A number of these DUII arrests were made by deputies working grant funded overtime provided by the Oregon Department of Transportation (ODOT) and the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA).

The Washington County Sheriff's Office, in partnership with ODOT and NHTSA, will conduct high visibility enforcement patrols this Super Bowl weekend and the entire month of February looking for impaired drivers. We encourage you to enjoy the NFL Super Bowl weekend responsibly.

If you're going to consume alcoholic beverages or recreational marijuana make sure to have a designated sober driver before the celebration begins. The Washington County Sheriff's Office reminds you this Super Bowl weekend to be a team player and help keep impaired drivers from getting behind the wheel. Designate your sober driver before the big game begins. And remember: Fans Don't Let Fans Drive Drunk.

The February DUII Safety Patrol results will be posted the beginning of March.
