Case #14-230867

Deputies Search for Endangered Cornelius Runaway

August 8, 2014—Washington County Sheriff's Deputies are searching for a runaway juvenile that is engaging in dangerous activities.

Sheriff's Deputies serving the city of Cornelius are asking for the public's help to locate Keri Sinner 17, from Cornelius. It is believed that she has repeatedly engaged in dangerous self-destructive behavior when she previously ran away from home.

The family reports that Keri has been victimized many times in the past by adult men who exploit Keri's vulnerability. The family also now believes her to be at a higher risk than before, due to her lack of appropriate medication. This disables Keri's ability to understand consequences and has left her susceptible to entering into very dangerous situations, including going with anyone she may come into contact with.

Keri is described as being 5'5", 125lbs, with brown hair and brown eyes. She was last seen wearing a black and white jacket and purple and black shoes. She has been entered into the Law Enforcement Data System which will assist any peace officer that comes into contact with her to return her home.

Sheriff's Deputies serving the city of Cornelius are seeking the public's help regarding this case. If you have any information, please call the Sheriff's Deputies at (503) 629-0111.
